BRITISH BATTER AXIS MOUNTAIN DEFENSES

Advances Claimed
For Both The First
And Eighth Armies

By WES GALLAGHER

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, April 23—(P)—The British Eighth Army has captured Rakrouna and pushed six miles from Enfidaville toward Bou Fichta in twin drives northward and the British First Army has stabbed ahead three miles against stubborn Axis resistance in the Bou Arada sector on the western Tunisian front, it was announced today.

These gains were coupled with aerial action during which Kittyhawks and Spitfires shot down every one of 20 six-engined Messerschmitt 323's, some carrying troops and others laden with freight, and 10 of their escorting fighters encountered over the Gulf of Tunis.

The giant Messerschmitt transports, which dwarf such carriers as the Junkers 52's, upon which Field Marshal Erwin Rommel has relied largely for reinforcements and supplies, are designed to carry 120 soldiers or almost 10 tons of cargo.

The transports were carrying gasoline and personnel to Tunisia and "the entire formation" was destroyed, an official statement said.

"Although not many aircraft were shot down, the size and importance of this victory ranks alongside the success of last Sunday, when 77 enemy planes, including 58 Junkers-52 transports, were destroyed in one engagement," the air force announced.

(The Junkers 52 is designed to carry from 16 to 20 soldiers or 5,000 pounds of cargo. It is powered by three engines.)

In all, 38 Axis planes were shot down during the day, against an announced loss of five Allied aircraft.

The battle with the transports, regarded here as the most important stroke against enemy supply lines since the start of war, lasted less than 10 minutes. Flames burst from many of the great carriers as they were hit by the fighter bursts. All the transports and the 10 fighters dropped in the sparkling gulf, the sea approach to Tunis. Observers said some transports appeared to be carrying gasoline. Troops who broke clear of the wreckage were seen struggling in the water.

The ground action again was on a large scale.

Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson attacked on a nine-mile front between Goubellat and Bou Arada, south of Medjez-El-Bab, and pushed eastward three miles to tighten the pressure upon the Germans and Italians seeking to hold positions along the grand Dorsal range to protect Rommel's right and rear. Resistance, however, was described as stubborn.

Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's weather-bronzed fighters, after hours of bayonet and grenade fighting, were securely astride the two roads which lead from captured Enfidaville northward, one inland and the other a coastal route.

The fortified Takrouna mountain, topped by a Berber citadel, lies five miles northwest of Enfidaville on the inland route to strategic Zaghouan, 28 miles air line south of Tunis.

The British vanguard on the coastal road, in reaching a position six miles north of Enfidaville, was already half way to Bou Fichta, 38 miles southeast of Tunis.

The Allied high command communique told of the new thrust by Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson's forces in the Bou Arada sector, this following repulse of a limited German offensive in the sector of Medjez-El-Bab, 20 miles to the north, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Nazis Are Reinforcing Land
Armies in the Kuban District

BY EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, April 23—(P)—The Germans hourly have reinforced their land armies in the Kuban and have shifted hundreds of their bomber and fighter planes into the Crimea for use in the North Caucasian battles, but despite incessant attacks by these new forces he Germans have failed to dent the Russian lines, it was declared today.

Red Star, the army newspaper, said the Nazis were employing numerous Rumanian troops and had during the last few days had ordered them to spearhead the assaults which are costing them untold numbers of dead.

The noon communique told of 90 of the enemy slaughtered in two Kuban sectors alone in the last 24 hours, bringing the toll for the last 20 hours well above 800. The German communique said the Nazi air force carried out a heavy attack last night against the Soviet Black Sea port of Poti, described as a naval base. The communique said "no fighting of importance took place on the whole eastern front yesterday."

The battle of the Kuban remains the principal conflict. The Germans are employing their reinforced armies from the region of

All-Out Sky Blow on Nazi Europe Being Stayed By

OTHER CAPITAL NEWS

By the Associated Press
Washington, April 23—(P)—The bombing of Nazi Europe drew double attention in the capital today as military officials indicated daylight raids are due to continue, but asserted an all-out sky blow is being stayed by diversion of aviation gas materials to the rubber program.

Called to referee the gas-rubber fight was a congress already busy—despite an Easter recess by the house—with tax matters, a land title deal with Panama and manpower measures.

Also concerned with the latter problem was the War Manpower Commission, whose officials saw small hope of softening Chairman Paul V. McNutt's job-wage control order without a change in the president's hold-the-line edict.

Despite some questioning among British press commentators of its effectiveness—due to recent plane losses—American high altitude daylight bombing of Nazi war industry appeared to have the okay of officials here. Figures made public by Undersecretary of War Patterson on the recent Bremen raid showed a score of 6-to-1 for the big planes against enemy fighters and stressed the damage they did to the Pocke-Wulf aircraft factory, although they were spotted an hour from their target. Officials indicated both the results of such raids and enemy planes shot down enroute—more than justify American losses, not to mention the need of diverting Nazi fighters from the Russian and Tunisian fronts.

It was Patterson who was quoted as blaming the rubber program for retarding the aerial offensive. Riled, Rubber Director William M. Jeffers promptly demanded—and got—an investigation. Chairman Gillette (D-Iowa) of a senate agriculture subcommittee announced his group would probe the dispute.

Then, he said, he "could only feel a deep loathing and resentment toward the war leaders who are responsible for the act. x x x There must be a futile hope in the perverse Japanese mind that the American people can be intimidated by such atrocities."

"Actually the Japanese announcement will have the opposite effect. x x x It is unfortunate that Japanese psychology permits them to think that Americans would be anything else but fighting mad after such an announcement. It only renews our determination to do our job promptly and thoroughly."

"We do not seek revenge, but we do want to have a fighting part in correcting a situation that threatens everything we hold dear. Our job is utterly and completely to defeat the Japanese nation and everything her war lords stand for. This can only be accomplished by striking at the heart of Japan."

Recess Taken
By Operators

New York, April 23—(P)—A proposal that the northern Appalachian coal wage conference recess to answer the summons of the War Labor Board to appear in Washington tomorrow was rejected by the miners today.

The operators, however, announced at the close of this morning's session that they would leave for Washington this afternoon, and the miners prepared to convene at 2 p. m., whether or not the operators appeared.

Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the operators, said that as far as the operators were concerned the conference was recessed, subject to the call of Ezra Van Horn, the chairman, and that the operators expected to leave for Washington this afternoon.

The miners remained in caucus as the operators went to their rooms to pack for the trip to Washington.

Slaying Pretty Bride in Pullman Berth

APPEAL IS PLANNED

Albany, Ore., April 23—(P)—Outwardly unperturbed and joking about "my gas ration," Robert E. Lee Folkes faces the prospect of dying in Oregon's gas chamber as the adjudged knife slayer of a newly engaged bride in lower berth 13 of a California-bound train.

Prosecution evidence offered at Folkes' trial was that he killed Mrs. James when she resisted his efforts to enter her berth.

The jury returned no recommendation for leniency. Thus, under Oregon law, the conviction carried the death penalty.

For 17 hours and 23 minutes the jury of eight women and four men mulled the fate of the negro who assertedly confessed to Los Angeles police he thought the Norfolk, Va., girl was "just my type of woman—I couldn't get her out of my mind."

He was accused of slashing Mrs. James' throat as the West Coast Limited sped along the snow-covered Willamette valley.

In one of three unsigned statements admitted into evidence, the negro told how he cautiously felt the sleeping woman's form, then unfastened the curtains of her berth and straddled her body.

She struggled desperately, almost throwing him out of the berth, one statement said—and he plunged a knife he had just sharpened deep into her neck and drew it down across her throat, almost decapitating her.

The jury never heard the story from his own lips. Defense Attorney Leroy Lomax did not call on him to testify.

At the time of her death, Mrs. (Turn to Page Thirteen)

To Report Out
Pay-Go Bill

BY FRANCIS M. LE MAY

Washington, April 23—(P)—Although the house has recessed for Easter, the tax-framing ways and means committee set a meeting today to report out a pay-as-you-go bill, with the modified Ruml skip-a-year-tax plan, will set off a new battle on the floor May 9.

The committee Democrats, with a majority, apparently were ready to submit a bill embracing a 20 per cent withholding levy against taxable parts of wages and salaries and providing that 1942 income be taxed at the much easier 1941 rates and exemptions.

Republicans are prepared to offer the modified Ruml bill as a substitute when the committee bill is called up on May 3, and the forensic battle will go on from there. (Turn to Page Thirteen)

MISTREATMENT DENIED

By the Associated Press
American forces have occupied islands of the strategic Ellice group about 300 miles south of the Japanese-occupied Gilbert islands in the South Pacific, the navy disclosed today in a communique reporting an enemy bombing attack on U. S. installations there.

A navy spokesman said the occupation was unopposed, although a communique in October, 1942, told of a surface engagement in the adjacent waters and it was assumed then that the Japanese had moved in.

The island group of nine palm-covered atolls lies 1,100 miles east of the Solomon islands and athwart Allied supply routes to Australia.

The Berlin radio, in a Tokyo dispatch, reported today that the Japanese government in a note Feb. 17 to the United States government declared its intention "to punish severely those members of aircraft crews who, following attack on Japanese territory, Manchukuo and on areas of Japanese military operations, have fallen into the hands of Japanese authorities and have been found guilty of having committed cruel and inhuman acts x x x."

This was the broadcast Japanese warning yet reported, exceeding the territory covered in a warning reported today by the Tokyo radio itself.

Both broadcasts were recorded by the Associated Press.

Guerillas In Balkans Are Unconquered

Bern, Switzerland, April 23—(P)—The unconquered guerrilla army of Yugoslavia, reinforced with airplanes, tanks and armored trains, now is waging full-scale war against the Axis troops in rugged upland terrain adjoining the Adriatic, according to a dispatch from Budapest.

Quoting a Zagreb report to the newspaper "Magyar Nemzet," the dispatch declared "veritable war" is under way in the Bosnia and Herzegovina regions of western Serbia. Strong Axis operations against the guerrilla forces of Gen. Draja Mihailovic are "necessary to safeguard this bastion of the continent against possible Allied invasion," the report added.

The size of the operations was indicated by an Italian admission that in that area last month 1,659 Italians were killed or wounded and another 1,862 were missing. German forces are engaged, too, but there has been no announcement of losses.

The growing concern of the Axis over the Balkan unrest was indicated by a Budapest dispatch to the newspaper "Neue Zürcher Zeitung" that the Nazi high commissioner for Serbia had decreed that all weapons must be surrendered by May 5 under the threat of heavy punishment.

Special Broadcasts
For Easter Weekend

BY C. E. BUTTERFIELD

New York, April 23—(P)—Specials for the Easter weekend will include an Anzac day program for NBC at 7 Saturday evening.

The Anzac broadcast is to present among others Dr. Herbert E. Evans, Australian minister of external affairs, Sister Kenny, and Ronald Colman in an original James Hilton sketch from Hollywood. It is hoped to obtain a pickup from Algiers also.

"A Hollywood war bond variety program, which CBS had announced for Sunday night, has been cancelled," the network said, on advice of the office of war information.

The bond show, with James Cagney as M.C., lists its talent as Dorothy Lamour, Bing Crosby, Martha Raye, Pat O'Brien, Carole Landis, Al Jolson and others.

Services for J. W. Kitchen
To Be Held Saturday
Afternoon

TEACHER FOR 25 YEARS

Funeral services in memory of James W. Kitchen, whose death yesterday afternoon came as a great shock to the community, will be held at 3:00 p. m. Saturday in the First Presbyterian church, where he had given nearly a lifetime of willing, Christian service.

The body will lie in state at the church from two until three o'clock. Interment in Oakland cemetery will be private and friends are asked to omit flowers.

Mr. Kitchen, lifetime resident of Warren, passed away about 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the family home, 313 East street. He was born on July 20, 1858, and was graduated from Warren High School in 1878, a member of the first class to be graduated by that institution.

He was first employed as a bookkeeper for the Pickett Hardware Company and the H. A. Jamieson Company. On January 26, 1888, he was united in marriage with Berta L. Thomas, who survives him. He was employed by the Pennsylvania Gas Company from April, 1891, through 31 years of continuous service, first as general bookkeeper and, from April, 1903, as assistant secretary and treasurer, from which position he was retired in 1922.

Mr. Kitchen joined the First Presbyterian church at the age of 13 years. In 1897 he was ordained (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Crisis Is Near
For Finland

Stockholm, Sweden, April 23—(P)—An iron-clad censorship was clamped on all political dispatches out of Finland today and the tension which gripped that country in recent weeks appeared developing into an Easter crisis.

Reports from Helsinki indicated that such a crisis might go far in determining Finland's position in the war, she is fighting against Soviet Russia, as well as her relations with the United Nations.

German pressure on the Finns was said to have been increasing. (The German radio said today in a broadcast of a dispatch from Stockholm that the staff of the United States legation in Helsinki left the Finnish capital this afternoon for Stockholm.)

Democratic Filibuster May Make Necessary Change
In Plans

CONTEST IS PROMISED

Harrisburg, April 23—(P)—Extension of the general assembly session for at least a week appeared probable today as the lawmakers went home until Monday with only two major administration recommendations approved.

Republican majority leaders some time ago set next Thursday for final adjournment, but a Democratic filibuster has slowed legislative machinery to such an extent they expect the session to continue into May.

Congressional reapportionment and post-war planning are the only key bills sent Governor Martin and even before he signs them the Democratic minority is threatening to challenge the redistricting proposal in the courts.

"Certainly it will be contested to the supreme court if necessary," declared Senator Joseph M. Barr (D-Allegheny), who led the senate fight against the measure on the ground that it would give Republicans a majority of the five congressmen in his county.

Legislative reapportionment, however, apparently was killed for this session as the house sent back to committee a bill by Rep. Frank J. Tiemann (R-Phila.) to realign the districts. The sponsor, however, predicted public demand would force passage of his proposal at the next session.

Senator Frank W. Ruth (D-Berks) disclosed amendments prepared for a house-approved bill would cut cost-of-living salary increases for school teachers from $26,776,000 to approximately $23,000,000 by reducing the increase from $600 to $500 for those in lower brackets and from $200 to $175 in the higher brackets.

Heart Attack
Is Fatal To Sheffield Man

Joseph T. Phillips, well known resident of Sheffield and field superintendent of the Kane Gas Company, died suddenly last night in Williamsport, where he had gone yesterday to spend Easter with his only daughter, Mrs. Pauline Fabel.

According to brief word received from there, he had retired as usual last evening and it is believed that a heart attack caused his death about midnight. He had been known to have a heart ailment but had been in fairly good health.

Aged about 65, Mr. Phillips formerly served on the school board in Sheffield and had been a trustee of the now defunct Sheffield Furniture Company.

He was affiliated with the Knights of Pythias, the Modern Woodmen, and with the Kane Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose.

He is survived by his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Fabel, and four sons, Richard and Joseph L. of Warren; Pvt. Archie, at Camp McCain, Miss., and Lawrence, in Kane also 12 grandchildren; two brothers and one sister: John, of Sheffield; Andrew, of Sheriff, and Miss Jennie, of Sheffield.

Removal is being made to the Borden Funeral Home in Sheffield but funeral arrangements have not been made pending word from his son at Camp McCain.

Ranking U. S. Ace Is Anxious "To Take It Over In Tokyo"

Washington, April 23—(P)—Captain Joe Foss, ranking American ace with 26 Japanese planes to his credit, said today he would like to pay "a short visit to Tokyo" to help settle accounts for the execution of United States airmen who participated in the Doolittle raid a year ago.

In his first press conference after returning here from the South Pacific, the marine captain said:

"Sometime I would like to pay a short visit to Tokyo. Then maybe we could have a short talk about what happened."

The strapping former South Dakota farm boy made the statement grimly and it was apparent how tough he feels that "short talk" should be on those responsible for execution of American prisoners of war.

Foss said Japanese prisoners, including pilots, who were held on Guadalcanal island in the Solomon were always well treated.

Some one reminded him that according to a marine corps biography, Joe's father had taught him at an early age "to shoot skunks and weasels."

"Is there any connection between that and your recent activities," a questioner asked.

"There is quite a likeness," Foss said with a grin.

RESCUE EFFORT FAILS

Richard, 6 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kline, 25 South South street was drowned about 6:45 Thursday evening at the foot of Elm street in the flood swollen Allegheny river. The lad with a small sister was playing about the bank of the river when a portion of the bank, undermined by the high water slid away. His little sister grasped his hand but was unable to pull her brother ashore and was forced to let go and see his body swept away.

The child, terrified at the accident, ran toward her home screaming loudly but evidently no one in the vicinity took cognizance of her cries. At her home she gasped out to her mother the fact that her brother was in the river. Mrs. Kline hastened to the stream and was so overcome by emotion that she had to be aided to her home.

Others attracted to the scene sounded an alarm and firemen with the rescue boat hastened to the scene. Police in the cruiser car also reported and work of searching for the body of the child was Fearing another tragedy if curious minded individuals persist in wandering along the river bank at the scene of last evening's drowning, borough officials issued a warning today urging adults and children to remain away from the stream at least until the water stage returns to normal. soon under way. Throughout the night the work was carried on until an early hour, this morning when the firemen returned to their quarters. The emergency lighting system of the fire department was put into use and a speed boat owned by R. W. Norris was put into the river and aided in the search.

This morning the firemen and volunteers returned to the scene and throughout the day workers searched along the river. The current at the spot where the boy slipped into the stream is fast and the water high. Unless the body should lodge close to the scene on brush or other obstruction it may have been carried down stream for some distance. The deep hole where sand and gravel is removed from the river lies below and the body may have sank into its depths.

Grappling for the body was stopped about two o'clock this afternoon when those in charge of the search decided that the entire bed of the eddy at the point where the (Turn to Page Thirteen)

What It Means

By JOHN GROVER

WASHINGTON — When CIO's Phil Murray said 650,000 war workers faced loss of jobs because they had over-produced some kinds of war goods, he wasn't talking just to stir up a breeze. The problem is serious. Murray's statement, scarcely evoked a mild ho-hum in official Washington, but some key men in the war effort are privately worried about unemployment attendant on shifts in war production emphasis.

Lessons learned in actual combat cause changes in production scheduling. If fighting shows that Item A is of doubtful value in the field, and we already have scads of Item A awaiting shipment, it's likely that outstanding contracts for Item A will be canceled.

There is also the factor that some easy-to-produce munitions and supplies are being turned out far in excess of available shipping and storage space. (Some ammunition, powder and automotive equipment items have been mentioned as well ahead of current and foreseeable needs.)

When these contract cancellations hit plants in bustling industrial centers, it doesn't pose much of a problem. Local labor is so scarce in these critical centers that a laid-off workman can go to work as soon as he sees a personnel manager in any one of a dozen neighboring plants.

Isolated Industries
It's not so simple when cancellation hits a plant isolated geographically. (Many of our new munitions and munition plants were deliberately constructed miles from anywhere.) Theoretically, they could be absorbed in the man-hungry industrial areas, but housing is a stumbling block. Housing facilities are gravely strained in the major production centers.

Coincident with the de-emphasis in some over-produced munitions lines, there is increased emphasis on stepping up production of others. The joint New Year statement of WPB-War-Navy mentioned merchant ship, escort ship and plane production as points of increased emphasis, with ordinance scheduled for at least temporary de-emphasis to let the war catch up with existing supplies.

Acute Shortage
These shifts in production emphasis do not change the national manpower picture. An acute shortage of manpower and women does exist, in the critical centers. It's not likely that de-emphasis in isolated production areas will cause more than local unemployment "sore spots" for six months to a year. However, thoughtful top executives expect this problem of re-conversion and re-employment in de-emphasized lines to be one of the toughest to solve in the late months of '43 and early in '44.

It has been suggested that the accelerated draft of married men in non-essential lines will ease urban housing to make room for displaced workers from the isolated factories shut down. It has also been urged that displaced workmen be recruited for augmented low-cost housing projects to shelter new workers in the "emphasized" production lines. (This solution runs into the snag of scarce materials.)

One reason Murray's statement of impending unemployment did not cause more reaction is that both industrialists and labor leaders in the past have been guilty of "wolf" "wolf" stories about the labor supply.

False Rumors
Careful observers at WPB say some industrialists have put out tales of imminent layoffs about the time they were negotiating for new contracts. It was their inference that unless they got the contracts, there would be widespread suffering among large groups of workers. Getting the contracts usually cured their gloom. Some, indeed, asked time concessions on their contracts because of labor shortages not long after their pre-contract predictions of impending layoffs.

For similar self-serving reasons, some labor leaders have thrown their weight against scaling down production contracts. They are not too keen to see large blocs of labor displaced and forced into other industries, possibly under control of a rival labor group.

But none of the men in a position to know New Murray's statement skeptically. Privately, some of them say his 650,000 figure is too low.

Summed up, it amounts to this: some program must be worked out to take displaced workers to areas of critical labor shortage and house them when they arrive. Otherwise, there'll be an increasing paradox of serious unemployment in some sectors, and a serious labor shortage elsewhere.

So far, the most worried executives admit no solution has been found.

Legion Plans Initiation On Monday Night

Members of Chief Cornplanter Post 135, American Legion, will hold an important meeting and initiation service at the Legion home on Monday. Commander Meade reminds all Legionnaires to be present and states that several items of important business will be discussed. The meeting is called for 8 o'clock. One of the initiates Monday evening will be an honorably discharged veteran of the present war.

Commander Meade also assures the children of Warren that the Legion's Easter Egg hunt will be revived as soon as war restrictions are removed. Tomorrow would have been the date of the Legion's 16th annual Easter egg hunt on the banks of the Allegheny river at Crescent Park.

With the calling off of the Easter egg hunt on the White House grounds and due to critical shortages of eggs, as well as other foods, the Legion had no alternative but to cancel plans for this year's egg hunt he said, adding that as soon as our war is won and normal conditions prevail we'll resume these egg hunts which have been a fixture with the children of Warren and make them bigger and better than ever.

Instructions For Making Out Order Forms For Loan Bonds

Second War Loan Workers are asked to follow their instructions closely in making out the order form for the Series E War Bonds. If the form is not made out correctly, it means additional work all down the line as well as delay in issuing the bonds. The War Finance Committee tried to make the instructions to workers easy to follow, and close adherence to these simple instructions is urged. It is especially important that the names in which the bond is to be registered be entered on the order form in the correct manner. There are three ways in which Series E Bonds may be registered, and the following examples show the proper way to fill in the order form for each of these three ways. First, if the Bond is to be registered in a single individual's name, all that is required is to make sure the form is filled out with the purchaser's name exactly as they wish it to appear on the bond. Care should be taken in all cases to get the first name in full rather than merely initials, and to use the proper Mrs. or Miss salutation. For ownership by one person this form should be followed:

JOHN W. JONES
1226 BLANK ST.
BLANKSVILLE, OHIO

Or, if purchaser is, for example, Mr. Jones' wife and the bond is to be registered in her name only, the form should be filled out NOT "Mrs. John W. Jones", but rather:

MRS. MARY A. JONES
1226 BLANK STREET
BLANKSVILLE, OHIO

The second way the Series E Bonds may be registered is to two persons as co-owners. In this case, the order form should not be filled in "Mr. and Mrs. John W. Jones," but rather this way:

JOHN W. JONES
1226 BLANK ST.
BLANKSVILLE, OHIO
OR
MRS. MARY A. JONES

The third way the Series E Bonds may be registered is to two persons with one as a beneficiary. In this instance the form should be filled in as follows:

JOHN W. JONES
1226 BLANK ST.
BLANKSVILLE, OHIO
PAYABLE ON DEATH TO
MRS. MARY A. JONES

Workers are asked to cooperate in filling out the forms in these approved ways, paying special attention to using Mrs. or Miss as the case may be, and also getting first names instead of merely initials.

The first recorded kidnap letter was written July 8, 1524.

Council For War Service Held Meeting

The Warren County Nursing Council for War Service met Wednesday night in the City Building. The problems discussed at this meeting included the potential nursing care which can be available in the event of community disaster. The recruitment of students for nursing schools were discussed in lengthy detail. The names of two worthy students of our community were presented for possible nursing scholarships.

The members who were present at last evening's meeting were Miss Dorothy Peterson, directress of nurses of Warren State Hospital and who has been appointed by District No. 7 of the Pa. State Nurses Association as Chairman for the Nursing Council for War Service of Warren County. Dr. Leonard Rosenweig represented the Warren County Medical Society. Miss Floretta Darling, psychotherapist of Warren State Hospital represented the local community for Warren County Red Cross Service. Miss Elizabeth Lautermilch, superintendent of the Warren General Hospital represented the staff nurses. Miss Floretta Clark represented the private duty nursing section. Mrs. William Lutz represented the Nurses Aid Committee and Miss Betty Gentilman, Warren County State Nurse represented the Public Health Nursing Section.

The next meeting will be held on May 5th to discuss further developments.

HORSE PRAIRIE BY CLEM COLT

Chapter 17
SO Tubac told the marshal that he was the man who had put the bum money into Hi Grab's bank. "But how did I know it was bum money?" he growled. "I took it in payment of a debt—an I supposed the guy was a gentleman."

Jinx Mueller eyed him dubiously. "Lack of knowledge is a poor excuse," he said grimly. "You had quite a real pile of jack, an' you ain't got the look of having forty-five cents. What would a mope be owin' you all that money for? I'm not promising anything, but if you don't come clean, by the gods you'll stay here till hell freezes! Now what about this money? Who's the guy that owed it to you? An' when did he pay you? An' why?"

The way Tubac told it was quite an involved story. Boiled down it summed up to just this: Two-three years ago he had a small spread in Texas, close to the border; had been raising horses for the army—and doing well at it, too, until one night his place had been raided and half his best stock run off. Revolutionists from across the line, he'd guessed, and a couple hours later he'd had confusion when a bunch of Rurales had come up, hot on the trail of the bandits.

A hard looking outfit and eager for the kill; and their Captain—a great ox of a man with a fierce mustachio—had demanded he give them fresh horses. Though not too keen on the notion, a number of considerations had swayed Jones. The Rurales' mounts had been pretty whipped out, but they'd been first-class brones in anyone's language; and besides, though Jones knew the company had been out of bounds, he had wanted the horse thieves captured. So he'd nodded agreement and the Rurales had cleaned out the last horse he'd left and gone off driving their own brones.

"WHAT!" exclaimed Mueller incredulously. "You let 'em clear out with nothing to prove?"

"Well, they seemed to figure they'd ought to have remounts and the Captain, he give me his note for the stock—said if they didn't git back to return it he'd send me the money next day."

"But you still ain't explained how you got that fake currency," Mueller said.

"If you'd shut up a spell I could git to it. Like I was fixin' to tell you, before them Rurales galloped off with my stock this Captain feller he give me his note, an' when he seen me next time he paid me off."

"How much?" said Jinx Mueller. "Five thousand bucks!"

Jinx whistled. "An' you expect me to believe you hung onto that money all this time?"

"I'd say he was tall, gaunt an' some quick. Dark an' deep-set eyes. Square chin—was in need of a barber's services last time I saw him across the line, below Naco."

"Below Naco, eh?" said Jinx thinly. "An' what'd you say his name was?"

"Chacon—" Tubac stopped short.

"Yeah," snarled Jinx and started swearing. "You're sure played hell all round, you bone-head! That guy's no more Rurale than you are! Next to Joaquin Murrieta he's the toughest Mex who ever went bronc! There's twelve thousand reward on that hombre's pelt an' you give him horses to ride off on!"

"But—" protested Tubac. "He was dressed like a Rurale an' the rest of 'em called him Captain. How was I to know different? An' all them others was dressed like Rurales—"

"In stolen uniforms—prob'ly stripped off their owners' carcasses," Jinx Mueller came back at him caustically.

"Well, I guess your yarn's straight," he said dourly. "I don't hardly guess no man would make up a spiel dumb as that is."

But Tubac said nothing. There was nothing to say. He'd been taken in like a booby.

It was a greatly sobered Tubac who turned into the Charleston trail that night. Once again he headed back toward Horse Prairie. He felt lower than a centipede's belly.

But where had Chacon got hold of that counterfeit money? If reports of the wily outlaw held truth he had been much too busy hiding his trail to have any time left over for turning out counterfeit currency. So it must have been given him—or else he had stole it from someplace. There were a lot of real likable things about Chacon; there was a lot of Robin Hood in the bandit, which inclined Tubac to think he had worked for that money—had earned it for satisfaction rendered.

But to hit on the name of the outlaw's employer was a deal too much like hunting the proverbial hay-hid needle. For all Tubac knew the spurious money might well have been printed in Mexico. He rather inclined to the belief that it had.

With a scowl Tubac dismissed the whole business and turned his mind to thoughts of Sue. Not to say that his thoughts were serious. He might be the boneheaded yap Jinx had called him, but his head wasn't solid ivory. There were not going to be any gals apronstrings hitched onto Tubac Jones, by grab!

But she was a dang nice critter just the same, but he wasn't going to think of her serious. Too many guys had got hooked in that fashion—and some of them right good poker-players, too. Girls were all right if you just kept your head; too much girl, well, anyway, she was handsome as an ace-full on kings, and the prospect of taking her horsebacking some night was nothing to get the creeps about.

NATIONAL BOYS AND GIRLS WEEK

Warren is joining thousands of other communities throughout the United States in observance of National Boys and Girls Week scheduled this year for the period April 24 to May 1, inclusive.

This year the observance of Boys and Girls Week takes on greater significance than at any time since the origin of the "week" in 1920, for never during the past 23 years has the welfare of youth been in greater danger than it is today. That the war is seriously impairing the normal development of boys and girls is now quite apparent. Alarming increases in juvenile delinquency have been reported throughout the country. J. Edgar Hoover, head of the F. B. I., now estimates that juvenile delinquency has increased at least 20% since the United States entered the war.

Boys and Girls Week deserves the serious attention and active cooperation of all who are interested in safeguarding our democracy. As the American Youth Commission has stated, "If our democracy is to continue, it is the young especially who must have a true conception of democracy. . . . To them democracy must seem to be worth every sacrifice and to offer the brightest opportunities for happiness and the good life." "Plans for the observance," says Major John L. Griffith of Chicago, chairman of the National Boys and Girls Week Committee, "are designed to carry out the theme 'Learning the Ways of Democracy.'"

Among the "week's" activities will be the election of local junior officials on National Service Day, April 29. Suggested plans for that day also include special High School Victory Corps programs, scrap collection contests, special war bond promotion, patriotic rallies, and national service exhibitions. Other days planned for the observance are: Day in Churches, April 25; Day in Schools, April 26; Day in Occupations, April 27; Day of Athletics & Entertainment, April 28; Health and Safety Day, April 30; and Day Out-of-Doors and Evening at Home, May 1.

LAST LONG BILLION

Nobody should be deceived by the sprinting start of the Second War Loan drive into believing that George will take care of Uncle Sam's financial requirements. George—meaning the big non-banking institutions—has jumped in with both feet, and bought bonds by the billions. This is exemplified by the situation in New York, which raised almost half its quota in two days because two insurance companies took quarter of the quota among them.

The payoff will come when the big boys have done their shares, and the rest of the billions have to be picked up in dribbles of $75 here, $37.50 there, $18.75 somewhere else. It takes a whole of a lot of $18.75 sales to equal a billion dollars—53 millions of them, in fact. So don't fear that your contribution will not be needed. Just lay it on the line, fast and often.

The death of James W. Kitchen, retired Pennsylvania Gas Company official, comes as a sad shock to those who came in contact with him during the many years that he has resided in the community. One of the oldest Sunday school teachers in the state and an esteemed citizen, Mr. Kitchen closes his life with a job well done, a life that was wholesome and Christian.

LENTEN SERMONETTE

REV. E. P. WROTH
Rector of Trinity Memorial Episcopal Church

Text: I Corinthians 15:17 "If Christ be not raised your faith is vain."

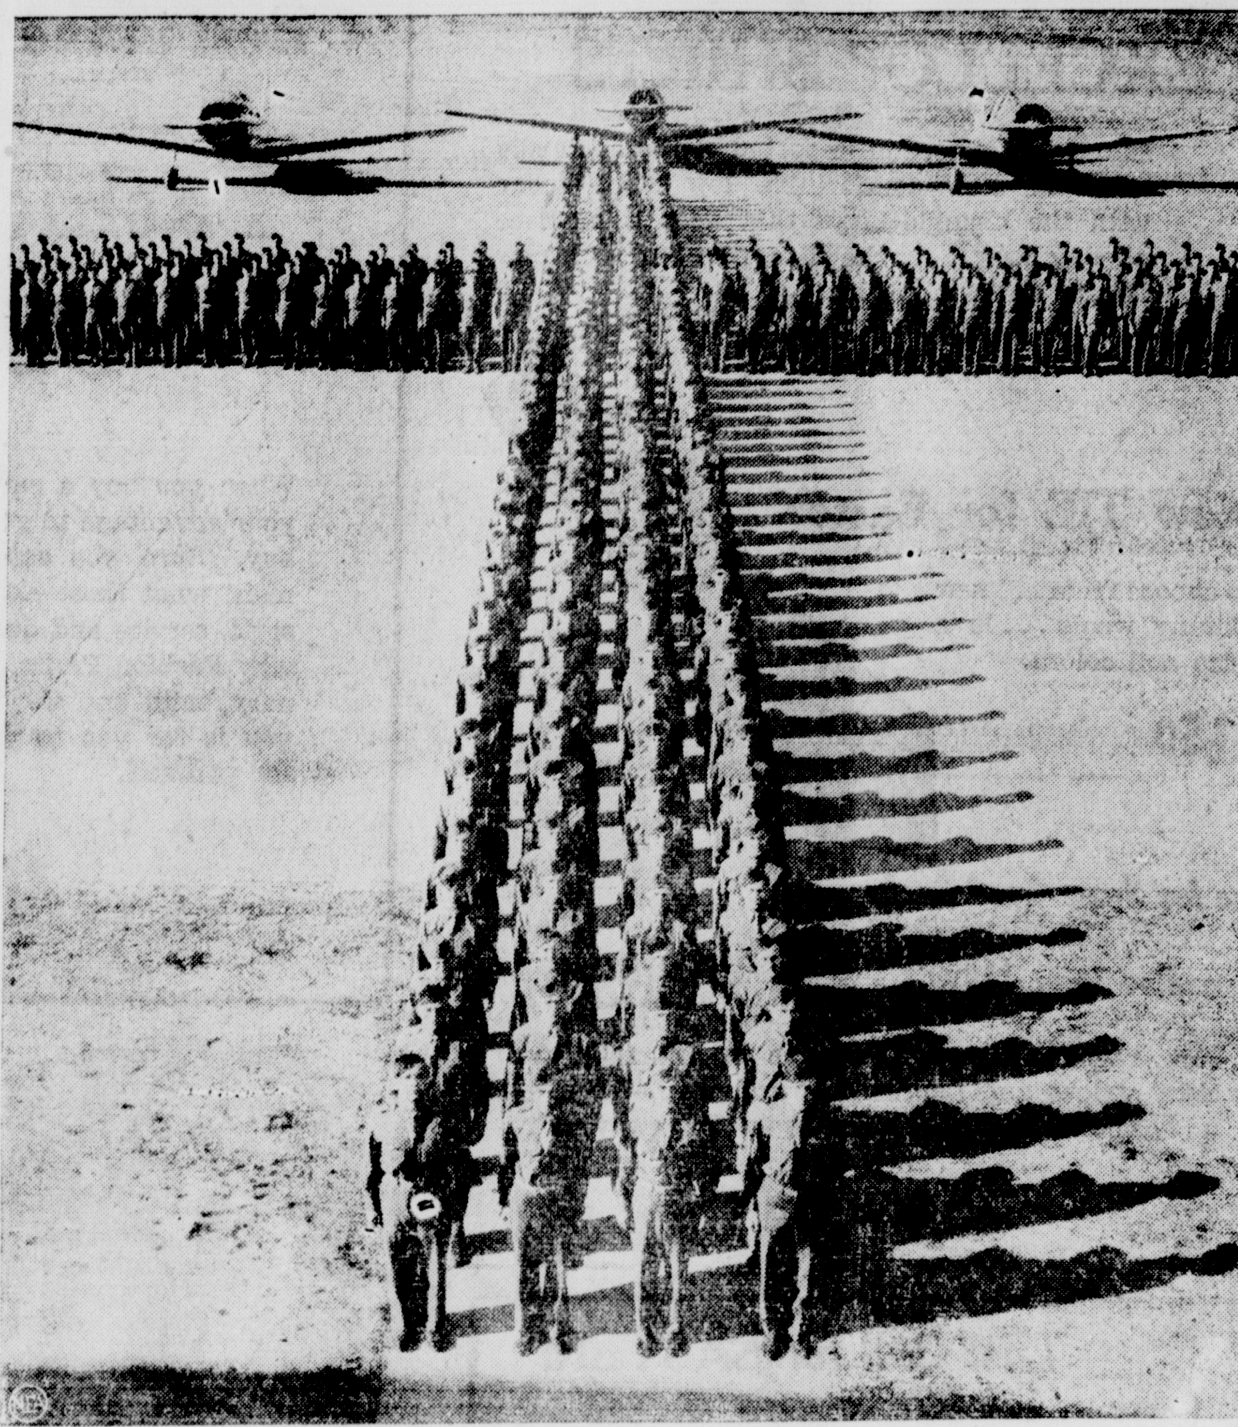

There are always some good people who insist that religion should deal with the eternal rather than the temporal, with general principles rather than with particular facts. They say that the past is dead; it is gone for good and can never come back to us. We cannot go back to it. We live in an ever-new world. Our duty lies in the present. Now is the day of salvation.

But here is the strange paradox—it is only the dead past that can make the present alive. Suppose you should wake up tomorrow morning without a memory. You would not know the difference between up and down, between the bed and the floor. So with a nation or a church. It must have a memory. It cannot live, much less progress, except in the light of history. Only as it forever reinterprets its past does it become competent to act in the present and to deal wisely with its issues and new problems. Only history can make truth intelligible. Only Christian history can give life to Christian faith.

Thus, these holy days, continually, from the very first, commemorating the precious events central to our common heritage, that is the death and resurrection of the Christ, are in themselves a perfect example of divine revelation and a satisfactory assurance that Jesus, the Crucified Redeemer, is also our Divine and glorious Lord in Heaven. There will always be a Good Friday and an Easter.

PRAYER: O Saviour of the world, who by thy Cross and Passion hast redeemed us; Save us, and help us, we humbly beseech Thee, O Lord. Amen.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Capital military observers are positive that in spite of military secrecy, we are going to hear plenty about the Nazi U-boat menace in coming months.

Military officials have admitted that the sinkings in the Atlantic are again on the upgrade. One observer, not connected with the government, recently described the situation to me as the equivalent of a major defeat for the Allies. It does amount to that. If we can't get men and material to Africa, Russia, and Great Britain in sufficient quantities, offensive action is held to a standstill. The losses in equipment and shipping are just as crippling as losses in men would be.

How far out of gear our offensive time-table has been through our losses in the Battle of the Atlantic probably won't be known until after the war, but there has been some disruption has already been openly conceded.

Why greater progress hasn't been made in whipping the U-boat menace is no secret. The Nazis, having no great surface fleet at the outset, put all their faith in submarines. They started early. It is estimated now that they have nearly 500 U-boats, with perhaps 150 of these operating in the Atlantic at a time. By the time Great Britain had built up her bomber force to the point that they could blast the sub works in Germany and along the channel coast those works had been put under layers of concrete. In spite of the blastings of those bases recently, the Germans still may be turning out around 20 subs a month.

Then, too, our own destroyer-escort program was started too late. Speedy little DE's are now rolling off the ways in good order, but the chances are there won't be enough of them to make a dent in the subs this summer.

THERE is a gap of about 700 miles in the mid-Atlantic that can't be adequately patrolled by land-based planes. That gap is the submarines' happy hunting ground.

On the other hand, the United Nations aren't taking all this lying down. They have developed new tactics, mostly secret, which may include hunting the sub packs with destroyer packs and patrolling the subs' happy hunting grounds with carrier-based helicopters. It is believed too that great strides are being made in sub-detector devices.

The effectiveness of our coastal patrol in driving the subs from the off-shore traffic lanes has proved the efficacy of fighting the sub with planes and before another summer the entire Atlantic routes may be covered with a canopy of aircraft.

Save Space by Growing Cucumbers on Fence

One way to grow cucumbers in small victory gardens is to let the vines climb. Another is to confine vines to a small space by pinching off their ends when they threaten to encroach upon neighboring plants.

Difficulties in growing cucumbers spring mostly from their insect enemies, which are easily controlled. First, the young plants are usually attacked by the striped cucumber beetle, which devours the leaves. The ends of all vines must be dusted, preferably with a mixture of 1 pound of calcium arsenate to 10 pounds of gypsum; and since almost every day there is new growth which in turn must be protected, this will require constant attention. However, it only takes a few minutes to attend to it, and when the vines grow to several feet in length the danger is over.

Aphids are likely to breed on the under side of the leaves, and they must be dusted or sprayed with a contact insecticide, such as nicotine sulphate or pyrethrum. It is easy to do this when the vines are climbing.

In selecting a variety of cucumber to climb, one which has medium sized fruits should be chosen, and the cucumbers should be picked when they are about half grown. The picking type of cucumber is also good for climbing, and the fruits can be sliced for salad use, as well as serving for pickles.

Cucumbers are usually planted in hills, 6 seeds to the hill, of which a few minutes to attend to it, and when the vines grow to several feet in length the danger is over.

All Cucumbers Are Natural Climbers.

before sowing. To climb a fence or trellis they may be planted a foot apart in a row.

Hills should be spaced at least three feet apart, unless it is intended to pinch off the ends of vines to confine their spread. There are so-called hill cucumbers which bear their fruits close to the base of the vine, which are bred for small gardens.

Because of the hazards which beset the cucumber in its early life, plants should not be thinned out until they have grown four inches. Water should be supplied frequently during dry weather, as the fruits of this plant have a high percentage of water.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1923

Harry Baxter, of the Warren Printing Company had the misfortune to have a finger caught in a press. The digit was so badly crushed that a portion of it had to be amputated.

County Agent Miller is predicting a good fruit year in the county orchards this year. Mr. Miller is urging farmers to attend a grafting demonstration at Garland on the Moore farm.

After a busy season the Hi-Y Club will suspend operations for the year this evening. A good program and a good feed is scheduled for the last meeting.

Jack Callahan who has conducted a service station opposite the Conewago Refinery for several years will erect a new and modern station on Market street just above Seventh avenue. At the new station he will carry supplies, tobacco, etc.

The handsome new edifice of the congregation of the Grace M. E. church will be in use Sunday although the formal dedication will not take place. The church is a beautiful one and contains the most modern equipment.

Every class A stream in the county has been stocked with trout since the close of the season last year and some excellent fishing is being enjoyed by the anglers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Allen and Leslie Hayes have returned to Warren after spending the winter touring the south. Allen's Sign Shop on Wheels toured almost all of the southern states and enjoyed a good business and a pleasant vacation.

Boys of the Youngsville Vocational Schools are planning for a busy summer. Most of them will work in agricultural projects, several will do home improvement work and a number will raise chickens.

Applications for emergency relief gardens are pouring into the office of C. F. Wiestoff at the court house. From all indications there will be a record number of gardens planted and cared for in Warren this year.

Youngsville had some excitement yesterday when a horse owned by John Eustace, of Matthews Run became frightened and ran away. The buggy overturned and was somewhat damaged. Mr. Eustace finally overtook the horse and again hitched it to the buggy.

Of the first 119 colleges established in the United States, 104 had a distinctly Christian church origin.

Scouts Will Plant Trees

The Boy Scouts of Warren borough will assemble at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning at the post office and will hike together to the "academy lands" to plant a tree for every soldier. The tree planting will be supervised by J. S. Pees, of the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters.

The Scout response to the project has been enthusiastic and it is expected that a large number of Scouts and Scouters will participate. Many of the Scouters who work until noon will join the boys shortly after lunch time to lend their enthusiasm and help to the completion of the planting. The objective is to plant two thousand pine "transplants."

This project is being made possible through the co-operation of R. F. Hemmingway and his staff of the U. S. Forest Service.

Word has been received here that Corp. Robert Beatty has been promoted to sergeant and that he has been transferred from Camp Gordon, Ga., to Fort Dix, N. J.

TIMES TOPICS

LOAD DROPS AGAIN

Payments to Warren county folk on relief dropped $9 on the week which closed yesterday. This is $45 lower than for the corresponding week one year ago.

TWO MINOR CASES

Only two minor criminal cases are scheduled for the May term of court in Forest county. Jurors will be notified not to appear.

Impressive Service Held At Y. M. C. A.

An "official family" communion service, followed by a Good Friday breakfast meeting for any men interested, closed the Y. M. C. A. pre-Easter program this morning.

Members of the board of directors and trustees, of the standing committees and the employed staff, as well as representatives of the Old Guard and Hi-Y, joined in an impressive communion at 7:15 a. m., administered by Rev. E. Pinkney Wroth, rector of Trinity Memorial Episcopal church.

At 8 o'clock many of these same men, together with others who came especially for it, participated in the Good Friday breakfast, the program of which was featured by a deeply devotional message given by Rev. Wayne Furman, pastor of the First Methodist church. In the absence of A. H. Yerg, chairman of the Religious Work Committee, who is ill, General Secretary Ralph Wagner presided.

Mr. Wagner expressed the association's regret and concern caused by Mr. Yerg's serious illness, and also the association's sense of loss in the death of James W. Kitchen, who had been a former director and officer of the "Y". As the breakfast meeting opened, Rev. Wroth invoked the divine blessing.

The "Y" building was closed from 12 noon to 3 p. m. today, during the hours of the community service.

THE LILY—SYMBOL OF EASTER—
A SIGN OF CHEER AND HOPE...

We must adopt cheer and hope as the mainstay—the backbone—of our determination for Victory! A bright outlook will do much to heighten the morale and the will to win, of civilian and soldier alike... With that thought in mind we bid our friends and their families a very Happy Easter—and may the next one be reflected in the glory of peace.

Points On Point Rationing

If one has to go light on the meat course, one can still dress up the meal with a particularly delicious dessert that will send the family away from table in a happy frame of mind.

There is, of course, a limited variety of fresh fruits now but by use of good stretch recipes one can of fruit can be made to provide eight or ten servings.

With the arrival of point rationing, the American Can Company instituted a program of tested recipes designed to stretch canned foods and so assist homemakers with their growing problems of menu planning. Miss Isabel Young, director of the company's home economics division, suggests these recipes for canned fruit desserts:

Mixed Fruit Pudding
1 No. 2½ can Mixed Fruits for Salad
¼ teaspoon Cinnamon
8 slices Bread
1 tablespoon Cornstarch
¼ teaspoon Salt
½ cup Water
2 tablespoons Lemon Juice
2 tablespoons Butter or Oleomargarine

Drain fruit, reserving juice.
Mix cinnamon with fruit. Spread each slice of bread with 1 tablespoon oleomargarine or butter and cut into cubes. Arrange 1/3 of bread cubes in bottom of greased baking dish. Cover with ½ of the fruit. Repeat, finishing with a layer of bread cubes on top. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 40 minutes. Mix cornstarch, salt and water until smooth. Add to fruit juice. Cook 10 minutes until thick and clear, stirring constantly. Remove from fire; add lemon juice and remaining oleomargarine or butter. Serve over pudding. 8 Servings.

Peach Crunch
1 No. 2½ can Sliced Peaches
1 teaspoon grated Lemon Rind
2 tablespoons Brown Sugar
Few grains Cinnamon
1 cup lightly crushed Cornflakes
1½ tablespoons melted Butter or Margarine
1½ tablespoons Brown Sugar

Drain peaches well; place in shallow baking dish. Mix together lemon rind, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, and cinnamon; sprinkle over peaches. Mix together cornflakes, butter or margarine, and remaining sugar; pack firmly over peaches. Bake in a moderately hot oven at 400° F.
for about 20 minutes. Serve with or without cream. Serves 4.

Peach Dumplings With Sauce
(Use other half of No. 2½ can Sliced Peaches)
1 No. 2½ can Sliced Peaches
½ cup flour
1 teaspoon Baking Powder
1 teaspoon Salt
2 tablespoons Shortening
1 cup Milk
½ cup Sugar
1 tablespoon Butter

Drain peaches well. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; add shortening and mix in thoroughly with fork. Add milk to make a soft dough. Roll out to ¼ inch thickness on floured board; cut in six-inch squares; pile drained peaches in center of each; sprinkle with sugar and dot with butter. Fold edge of each tightly toward center and pinch together. Place closely together in buttered baking dish; bake in moderately hot oven at 425° F.
for 15 minutes; reduce heat to 400° F. and bake 15 minutes longer. Serve warm with fruit juice sauce.

Sauce
½ cup Sugar
1 tablespoon Cornstarch
1 teaspoon Cinnamon
1 cup Peach Juice, drained from Peaches
8 Almonds, cut in slivers

Mix together sugar, cornstarch and cinnamon; add fruit juice.
Cook until mixture becomes clear and slightly thickened; add almonds. Serve hot over dumplings.

The amazing castor plant, whose oil prompts grimaces like that of the little girl above, has proved its worth in wartime. The oil is being used to lubricate guns and airplanes, to supply glycerine for explosives and the plant's leaves are the source of an insecticide for tree spraying (bottom). Its wide use and cut in imports from Brazil may make the castor plant an important U. S. crop.
But don't worry, kiddies, there'll always be enough for you—medicinal use is only 10 per cent of castor oil production

IRVINE UNIT
Miss Driscoll presided for the well attended meeting of Irvine PTA held this week. The attendance award went to Room 4. A report on progress of the Red Cross sewing group was given by Mrs.
Colter, showing the unit had completed 18 hospital gowns, 10 women's gowns, 24 children's slips, 28 ladies' slips, 18 ladies' petticoats, 18 pajama suits, totaling 126 garments. The women are to be commended for their splendid showing.

Valda Luvison pleased with several piano solos after which Mrs.
Thelma Prendergast, home economics extension representative, gave an interesting and helpful talk on "Nutrition," using a nutritive value chart and colored streamers to explain the essential foods.

After the program a special luncheon was served to honor Mrs.
Colter who is leaving the community soon to reside in Warren.
Mrs. Munson presented her a purse of money as a gift from the group. The Colter family has resided in Irvine for a number of years and will be greatly missed.

Worship in Many Phases to Mark Day of Resurrection

End of Holy Season and Easter Celebration in Local Churches

Today most of the Christian churches of the world are holding individual or community worship periods from noon until three o'clock in commemoration of the three hours the Master spent on the cross on Calvary. Meditation and prayer in most instances, are based on His seven last words from the cross and music is built about the same theme.

Tomorrow is Holy Saturday and passing of noontime marks the conclusion of the Lenten season, during which Christians everywhere have given up worldly pleasures and practices as a sign of their participation in the preparation for the day of crucifixion and Sunday's day of resurrection.

From the early morning hours until night time of Sunday there will be services in one form or another, combining music, drama and Easter messages, to mark the greatest day in the springtime calendar of Christians. Warren, in common with other communities in widely separated parts of the world, will pattern its Easter observance along much the same lines, with sunrise services, fellowship breakfasts, services of Holy Communion and the story of the resurrection in song and dramatization.

Play and Cantata in Message and Music At the Presbyterian

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend either the morning or evening service in First Baptist church on Easter Day. For the 11 a. m. service, Pastor J. A. Davidson will bring a special message and the choir will sing "He Is Risen" by Floerding and "Sunrise on Easter Morning" by Olds, in which an assisting trumpet trio will be composed of Jack Donovan, James Glans and Loren Wright.

For the 7:30 p. m. service, Miss Evelyn Wolstencroft will play as organ numbers "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" and the "Hallelujah Chorus" from "The Messiah" and "Christ Is Risen" by Sullivan.

Mrs. Olive A. Huff will direct a play, "The Light in the Window," by Dorothy Clark Wilson, for the 7:30 p. m. service and Miss Viola Lindmark will direct the cantata, "Death and Life" by Harry Rowe Shelley.

To be seen in the play cast are Mrs. F. H. Hetrick, Harriet Lind, Phyllis Sellers, Charles Swanson, Georgia Spinney, Dorothy Ann Harris, Hugh Lauffer, George Spinney, a group of Easter carolers and a tableau composed of Mrs. Juanita Ciaman, Mrs. Rachel Baxter, Helen Ross and Mary Kuhre.

Soloists for the cantata will be Mrs. Foster Maize, Dorothy Ann Harris, Viola Lindmark, Boyd Sanden, Clement Wolstencroft and Ralph Owens. Helen Eckardt Olson will play as violin numbers "Benedictus" by Giodanni, "Elegie" by Czervasky and "The Palms" by Faure and at the organ Miss Wolstencroft will play "The Heavens are telling" by Haydn and "Alleluia" by Palestrina. In conclusion the choir will sing "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "The Messiah".

Trinity Services To Be Based on Music

Services at Trinity Memorial Episcopal church on Easter Day will begin with a choral eucharist at 6:30 a. m. and will include the following music:

Processional hymn, Welcome, Happy Morning, by Sullivan; Kyrie Eleison, by Cuntance; At the Lamb's High Feast We Sing, by Bach; offertory anthem, Easter Song, by Fehrmann; Sursum Corda, by Cuntance; Sanctus and Agnus Dei from St. Cecilia's Mass by Gounod; The Strife Is Over, by Mendelssohn; recessional hymn, He Is Risen, by Neander.

At 11 a. m. there will be choral eucharist and sermon by the rector, Rev. E. P. Wroth, with the following comprising the musical offerings:

Processional hymn, Welcome, Happy Morning, by Sullivan; Easter canticle, Christ, Our Passover, by MacFarlane; Festival Te Deum, by Lutkin; Kyrie Eleison, by Cuntance; The Day of Resurrection, by Tours; Jesus Christ Is Risen Today, by Wesley; offertory anthem, Behold, Ye Disciples, by Parker; Sursum Corda, by Cuntance; Sanctus and Agnus Dei from Bach's St. Cecilia's Mass; The Strife Is Over, Mendelssohn; Prayer of Blessing, by Lutkin; recessional hymn, He Is Risen, by Neander.

The children's festival and Lenten offering presentation service will be held at 3 p. m., with special music by the junior choir and an illustrated talk by Mrs. Brickett Ayers.

The public is cordially invited to attend any of these services.

Music and Drama at The Grace Methodist

At the Easter Sunday morning service in Grace Methodist church the choir will sing selections from Handel's "The Messiah", under the direction of Byron Swanson.

Mrs. C. G. Lindquist will sing the contralto solo, "He Was Deceived", Mrs. Olive Niemann, the soprano solo "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" and the full choir will sing "Surely He Hath Borne Our Griefs", Mr. Swanson will play "Aria" by Handel and "Festal Postlude" by Stern for his organ numbers. The junior choir, under the direction of Miss Grayce Jolley, will sing "Alleluia" by Humphries. For his Easter theme, Pastor Harold Knappenberger has chosen "Girded With Gladness".

At the 7:30 evening service, the Youth Fellowship will present an Easter drama, "The Half of My Goods" by Ralph Claggett. The following comprise the cast in this story of Zachaeus and his son: Harold Knappenberger, Jr., Juanita Farr, Tom Schorman, Jean Smith, Joanna Eckland, Malcolm Young and Kilar McDonald.

A cordial welcome awaits all at Grace church.

Communion - Cantata At the First Lutheran

First Lutheran church members will have two services of Holy Communion on Easter Sunday morning, the first at 7:45 and the second at 11 a. m.

For its anthem the choir will sing "King Triumphant" by Ashford and the organist, Mrs. Dorothy Engstrom, will play "The Holy City" by Henley for the prelude and "Easter Joy" by Hosmer for the postlude.

At 7:30 p. m., she will play "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" by Handel and "Christ Is Risen" by Ashford. Mrs. W. E. Yeager will direct the church choir in the cantata "Easter Angels" by Pearls, with Roger Webster, Mrs. Yeager, Mabel Hill, Marten Peterson as soloists.

The pastor and congregation extend a cordial welcome to all members and friends.

HORSE PRAIRIE BY CLEM COLT

Chapter 18

AFTER awhile Jones' thoughts turned to Blackwater, and he felt a twinge of conscience for having neglected his partner this way. Of course he hadn't neglected him really, because the note he had thought Blackwater had left him was how come he'd gone off to town in the first place. But it was uncommon odd where the gambler had gotten to.

He would have to scout around for a little and see if he couldn't turn up some clue that might give him a hint to Blackwater's fate.

He was cresting the last low rise that lay between himself and Horse Prairie. Kneeling Caliope up the shale-strewn trail he wondered how Winch Face and White-Eye were coming along with the chore he had set them, and if they had got all the horns off yet, and if the Stampede crowd had come calling again to kidnap the rest of his outfit.

And then he was pulling up, startled.

THE buildings were all in plain sight just below him. He saw no lights but he needed to show the strange bronc standing hitched to the porch rail—or the man's dim shape in the rocker.

Be just as well to take a look around first. He eased Caliope off the trail. In a thicket of brush he got out of the saddle and he folded the stirrups up over the horn and then tied the reins to it likewise.

Then he gave the wise horse strict instruction and started him off with a slap on the rump; covered by the sound of his hoofbeats he raced along below the ridge for a ways and came up on the house from the back of it. He could hear Caliope entering the yard from the lane and he examined his six-shooter carefully. On tiptoe he made for the porch, rounding the side wall's angle just as the man streaked out of the rocker. Jones saw the glint of a hiked-up rifle as the man crouched forward to peer toward Caliope—saw him stiffen, heard him curse; and knew he'd discovered the empty saddle. Then moonlight disclosed the strange rifleman's face.

It was Snaggle-Tooth Potter, the man who had sold him a horse the other day.

"Lose something?" Potter jumped like a scorpion had kissed him. But he didn't whirl. He knew better than to pull anything brass on that caught like he'd been with that ready rifle. He stood like a blight had struck him, not batting so much as an eyelash.

Jones strode round the angle of the porch and stopped just short of the Stampede foreman. "All right, coyote. Heave that blunderbuss off in the brush. Now heave that six-shooter after it. Got any Arkansas toothpicks hid on you? Any forest razors or cavalry sabers? If you have you better get shucked of 'em 'cause the first time you look at me cross-eyed I'm goin' to work you over like a fresh-skun hide."

"That's all I got," Potter muttered. "Turn around then. I wanta see your mug. Hmmm. Could stand a few changes. Nose needs straight-

YOUNGVILLE NEWS

Youngville, April 22—Youngville Parent Teachers Association met Tuesday afternoon in the high school auditorium with Mrs. Mayola Sanford, presiding and a good attendance.

The meeting opened with the singing of the National Anthem led by Miss Lilly Wood and with Byron Swanson at the piano.

Two playlets were given by pupils. The third grade, Miss Arlene Mott, teacher, presented "The Victory Garden". It was a clever little playlet. First the boys and girls gardeners in pantomime with real tools planted their garden and to their aid came the sun, breezes and rain. Then appeared the vegetables. These vegetables were painted cut outs almost as large as the children, who carried them and they were arranged in groups according to their vitamin values.

Bugs and worms appeared also large cut outs and they were driven away with sprays also birds and toads helped in this fight.

The second demonstration was by the 4th grade, Miss Lilly Wood teacher and in dialogue, a health and safety program was given.

Mrs. John Zeliff was selected by the president, to represent the P. T. A. at the next Service Club for local boys in U. S. service.

An election of officers was conducted with the officers for the coming school year: President, Mrs. Mayola Sanford; vice president, Mrs. Bessie Barton; secretary, Miss Whitford and treasurer, Joseph Passaro.

Installation of these officers will take place at the last P. T. A. meeting of the school year in May.

Let's Buy "Emmy" an Easter Egg FOR HITLER!

A couple of years ago some of our local kids were fooling around the airport learning to fly... a couple of weeks ago those fortunate enough to see it were treated to the thrilling sight of a Flying Fortress dipping its wings in salute over Warren.

One of the kids who had been fooling around was the co-pilot and engineering officer of that Fortress—Second Lieutenant "Emmy" Baxter. Everybody knows "Emmy"—he worked at Kirberger's for nearly nine years before leaving April 14, 1942, for the Santa Ana Air Base.

Some day before long, "Emmy" is going to be flying east into the dawn; and some day before long he is going to take part in one of those 1,000-plane raids over Schinkelgruber's back yard, and he's going to help lay some of those nice, big 4,000-pound "eggs" right where they'll do the most good.

Just one of those 4,000-pound bombs costs $872.42—and it's up to you... and You... and YOU, to see that "Emmy" has plenty of them to drop!

Our War Bonds will buy those bombs. So let's praise the Lord for boys like "Emmy" and pass him the ammunition—QUICK!

(William Alberti, our watchmaker for many years, isn't piloting a Fort, but he's in there doing his bit and likewise needs the ammunition that your bonds will provide.)

Boys Steal Cigarettes By Cartons

Discovery of a broken window in the candy warehouse of the Smith-Horton Company's plant several weeks ago and the resultant investigation by the police has unraveled a robbery that will amount to hundreds of dollars. The police in probing into the breaking and raising of the window discovered that an employee of the plant had been taking cigarettes by the carton. This morning the police were notified that over 150 cartons of cigarettes had already been discovered missing while candy and other items are also short.

A youth employed part time at the Smith-Horton plant has been implicated by the police and his two accomplices are expected to be rounded up this afternoon. All of the lads are in their teens hence police are withholding their names and they will undoubtedly be dealt with in Juvenile Court.

Investigation has also solved the breaking and entering of two apartments on the West Side. In the first visit to these apartments the thieves took a rifle, a revolver in a leather holster and a smaller revolver. On the second visit the boys took banks containing a considerable sum of money in pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters. This robbery has been solved and two boys one 14 and the other 15 have been rounded up. One of these lads is an old offender but the other is in trouble with the police for the first time. Their case, too, will go to juvenile court.

Warren Boy Interned in Italian Camp

Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Anderson, 406 McPherson street, have just been advised by the War Department that their son, Pvt. John A. Anderson, is a prisoner of war interned in a concentration camp in Italy.

This is the first word they have had since March 6, when they were notified that he had been missing in action somewhere in North Africa since February 14.

Three days prior to that they had a letter from their son, in which he wrote that he was well and enjoying army life.

Pvt. Anderson, who has two brothers in the armed forces in this country, was drafted July 9, 1941, going from an eastern reception center to Fort Bragg, N. C., and from there to Camp Blanding, Fla. He returned to Fort Bragg before he went overseas in July, 1942. In December of last year he went from English soil to North Africa with other Allied contingents.

Reported missing in action on the same day in March that word came about Pvt. Anderson was Pfc. Michael Hudock, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hudock, Sr., 23 Swiss street, this city. A check with his family today revealed no further communication concerning him since the arrival of the War Department's message in March and a personal letter from him in January telling of his safe arrival in North Africa.

To build a heavy bomber like the Flying Fortress or Liberator, it takes $500 $100 war bonds, which cost the purchasers only $75 each.

TIMES TOPICSCOMING TO WARREN

A representative from the Erie field office of the Social Security Board, which serves this area, will be at the Employment Service office, 225 Pa. Ave., W., Warren, at 10 a. m., Monday, April 26th.

DREW MUCH ATTENTION

A number of U. S. Army mobile units passed through the city today with sirens screaming on their way to some unknown destination. They attracted much attention as they went through red lights to the consternation of local motorists who approached the intersections.

Social Events

Kermit Cuthbertson, 117 Biddle street, is reported in a serious condition following an operation performed on Thursday morning in the Neurological Institute in New York City.

No Eggs

Army nurses drag out the old tin bucket for an impromptu shampoo at their base in Australia. Lieut. Lily Fucci of Rutland, Vt., works up the lather while Frances Cox of Woodland, Me., gets ready for a cold water rinse.

Alma Mater Will Honor Rev. Rinard

Dr. Herbert A. Rinard, retired colonel of the United States Army and supply pastor for the war's duration of First Lutheran church here, will be honored next Monday when his alma mater, Gettysburg College, will confer upon him the degree of doctor of divinity.

Dr. and Mrs. Rinard, 211 Market street, expect to leave some time Sunday afternoon for Gettysburg, to be guests Monday at the 1943 commencement exercises of the college.

Dr. Rinard already holds a doctor of divinity degree, conferred upon him by Thiel College in Greenville, denominational institution of the Pittsburgh Synod, United Lutheran church.

He has made many friends in this community since coming here last September from Randolph Field, Texas, where he had been retired from the army ranks the same month. A chaplain overseas in World War I, he later served in the same capacity at Fort Niagara, N. Y., with the Air Corps in Honolulu and at Fort Slocum. He was also for a time executive officer in the chief of chaplains' office in Washington, D. C. He received his commission as colonel in January, 1942, recognition of his services to his country since 1917.

OBITUARYBEVERLY JEAN PETERS

Youngsville, April 23.—Funeral services for Beverly Jean Peters daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Peters, were held from Saron Lutheran church at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday preceded by a prayer service from the family home. Rev. Wallace Johnson, her pastor, conducted the rites and brought a comforting message.

On Palm Sunday a year ago, Miss Peters was confirmed in Saron church and the following girls from her class acted as honorary bearers: Sarah Jean Peterson, Janet Lucas, Lois Walters, Florence Peterson, Ellen Christianson, Lois Rosendale and Martha Jean Johnson. Active bearers for interment in Youngsville cemetery were Roy Crandall, Theodore McClure, Ernest Hendrickson, James Peterson, Joseph Swanson and Gordon Clark. Most business places of town were closed during the period of the services.

Those who came from out of town included relatives and friends from Ridgway, DuBois, Lander, Corry, Warren, Jamestown, Frewsburg, Freedom and Syracuse.

Beverly Jean Peters was born April 25, 1928, and had lived all her life in Youngsville. She was a member of the freshman class of the local high school and her fellow classmates, accompanied by Principal Paul Getts, visited the family home in a body before the rites and presented her parents with an honorary diploma from the junior high school. Besides her parents she leaves her grandparents, Charles Peters, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Swanson; also five uncles: Kenneth, Russell, Walter, Charles and Virgil Swanson.

The 11 games that have been played in the new major league baseball season have convinced almost everybody that the new balata ball is just that—a lot of balata—but the deadness of the ball has not alarmed as many persons as the deadly emptiness of the stands for the early games.

Weather reports in wartime are of necessity scant and the first reaction to the shrinkage in attendance was to blame it on unseasonable conditions such as caused postponements of all four eastern openers on Wednesday.

Unfavorable weather has been responsible in varying degrees and in certain instances, such as the tiny turnout of 5,860 fans in Big Yankee stadium yesterday to see the American League champions edge out the Washington Senators, 5-4.

On the other hand it had nothing to do with this fact that only 1,897 persons went to Crosley Field in Cincinnati to see another pitching classic in which the Reds again whipped the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, 1-0 in ten innings.

The small attendance goes deeper than the weather. Many thousands of baseball fans are now in military service and countless others are too busy in war work to get to games on week-day afternoons. The major leagues may have to play more night games and possibly will experiment with morning contests.

Cincinnati's second-day crowd was a drop from 27,709 on Wednesday in spite of the fact that there was every reason to expect a duplication of the spectacular struggle which the Reds and Cards waged the day before.

SUNSET LOOP PREPARES FOR GOOD SEASON

The Times-Mirror Sunset loop held a meeting last night in the local paper's office and one more roster was submitted to the league. Definite steps are being taken toward a successful season with the advent of next week's meet at which time several "free agents" will be selected for each team of the league. Those wishing to play this year are asked to sign the blank found on this page and send, or bring, it to the Times-Mirror no later than Monday, April 26th.

BOWLING

AT PENN CENTER
The final night of the Commercial League found the leading 3-Gs sweeping four points from the Bradford Penns as Dr. J. Giunta's 215-591, also high for the evening leading the winners, and league champs, and Bedner's 530 leading the losers, Keystone, finishing second, lost three to the Oscars, who finished third, as Miller's 556 leading the winners and Rapp's 541 the losers. Valone's finishing fourth, found them sweeping four points from Olson-Ejers, who they just beat out for position in the roll-offs, commencing next Tuesday evening. Fazio's 530 lead the winners and Inter's 509 the losers. Times-Square took three from the lowly Crossetts as Boyd's 511 led them and Whiteshot's 536 the losers.

WILLIE PEP AND WILSON GO MONDAY

Pittsburgh, April 23—(AP)—Willie Pep, 20-year-old feather-weight champion, lived up to his name when he appeared here after a 39-hour trip on a crowded train, much of the time spent standing up and announced with a grin: "I'm as fresh as a daisy."

The curly-haired boxer, youngest champion in his class since Terry McGovern won the crown more than 40 years ago at the age of 19, will be trying for his 66th victory in 67 fights when he faces "Pittsburgh Jackie" Wilson, former NBA titlist, in a 12-round bout here on Monday night.

GOLF TOURNAMENT IS OFF FOR DURATION

Hershey, Pa., April 23—(AP)—The Pennsylvania public links tournament sponsored annually by the Pennsylvania Public Golfers Association has been cancelled for the duration.

The tournament has been held at the Hershey Park Golf Club for the past nine years. It drew an average of 128 entries during the last four years. Tony Mihalik, of Sharon, Pa., won the championship last year.

AT THE MOOSE
Henderson's Lunch won a cinch match from the Millie's Inn last night on the Moose slides by mopping up on a forfeit while on the other slides, Valentines dumped the Soda Minerals for four straight when Joe Fielding went wild on the payoff pocket and hammered out 633-221. Johnny Waples nailed a 552 set for the losers.

AT THE ELKS
The Style Shop and the New Process took the high road last night and downed the Lewis Market and Kirberger's in the process. "Jap" Lynch piled up the wood to the tune of 196-194 for the two games to lead his clothiers to victory over the Lewises who had Franklin Riggs to do the hard work at 196, 198, but he didn't have the support to turn the trick. F. Rapp led the New Process with a scorching 241 game, while the New Process paced the heated

Sports Roundup

Philadelphia, April 23—(AP)—There aren't any mutual machines at Franklin Field, but there's one of the greatest sets of handicappers you ever saw for the Penn relays races. They're the timers of them and all red-hot track fans. Not only do they handle as many as three stop watches at a time to keep tabs on various performances, but they get together in advance and go over the past records of the runners so they'll be sure to catch the right ones. Head timer Tommy Lennon and assistant Harry Schwartz did that job in New York last Sunday and a lot of the guys who sit in the stands and bet times on all the runners in lane 3 or anyone who wears a purple jersey, would like to know what they decided.

Fritzie Hitzie
(News item: Fritzie Zivic asked to take war plant job.)
I'd like to see old Fritzie Zivic in a war plant driving rivets. He'd drive a dozen with a punch. Then take two hours off for lunch.

Today's Guest Column
By Ted (P) Meir: Boxing is booming here. Promoter Herman Taylor terms Philadelphia the best fight town in the country outside of New York. Jimmy Toppi, who has only 2200 seats to sell at his Olympic Club, has run 55 consecutive shows at a profit. One show netted only a nickel, but still it was on the right side. Clari Haire, co-promoter with Ned Irish of basketball doubleheaders at Convention Hall, has taken a wartime job on the sports desk of the Philadelphia Record. Clari says he'll have a court schedule for next winter lined up in a few weeks but he doesn't expect to know before July what the prospects really are. Penn opens its rowing season on the Schuylkill against Rutgers and Princeton tomorrow, looking ahead to next week's Adams Cup Race which, surprisingly, will be bigger than ever. Cornell is an added starter this year.

RAIL POSITION

Chasing foul which he dropped in Pacific Coast League opener in San Francisco, veteran Gussie Suhr, now playing first base for Seals, finds himself hanging on rail in wrong dugout. San Francisco beat Hollywood, 7-5.

Ollie Hunter-Former Erieite--Among Tracksters Taking Part In Annual U. of Penn Events

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Philadelphia, April 23—(AP)—Although the army has turned thumbs down, in a polite way, on intercollegiate competition for its specialized students in colleges, army teams will compete for four college relay championships of America at the 49th annual Penn relays today and tomorrow.

The major relay races at the two-day Carnival bear that rather flamboyant "championship" title, but Camp Lee, Va., has entered teams to race on even terms against the college boys in four of these events and other entries include an army air corps team from Atlantic City, N. J., and a navy yeomen's team from Philadelphia. There's a strong service tinge to the individual special events as well, with such well-known names as Fred Wilt, former Indiana two-miler now representing the navy midshipmen's school in New York; Pvt. Norwood (Barney) Ewell of Camp Lee, and Eulace Peacock of the Manhattan Beach, N. Y., coast guard, two star sprinters; Corp. Joshua Williamson, Camp Lee high jumper; Major Chester Cruickshank, Camp Pickett, Va., hammer thrower; and Corp. John Saunders, Camp Lee hurdler.

In addition there will be a United Nations half-mile relay tomorrow, involving teams from British, French and American naval units, a military service mile relay championship that drew seven entries, and a defense industry mile relay. Camp Lee has entered teams in four college relay championships, the half mile and sprint and distance medleys today and the quarter mile tomorrow. And with Ewell and Saunders to head the sprinters and Pvt. Frank Dixon, national indoor mile champion from New York University to run the medley anchor legs, the soldiers may be contenders in all four.

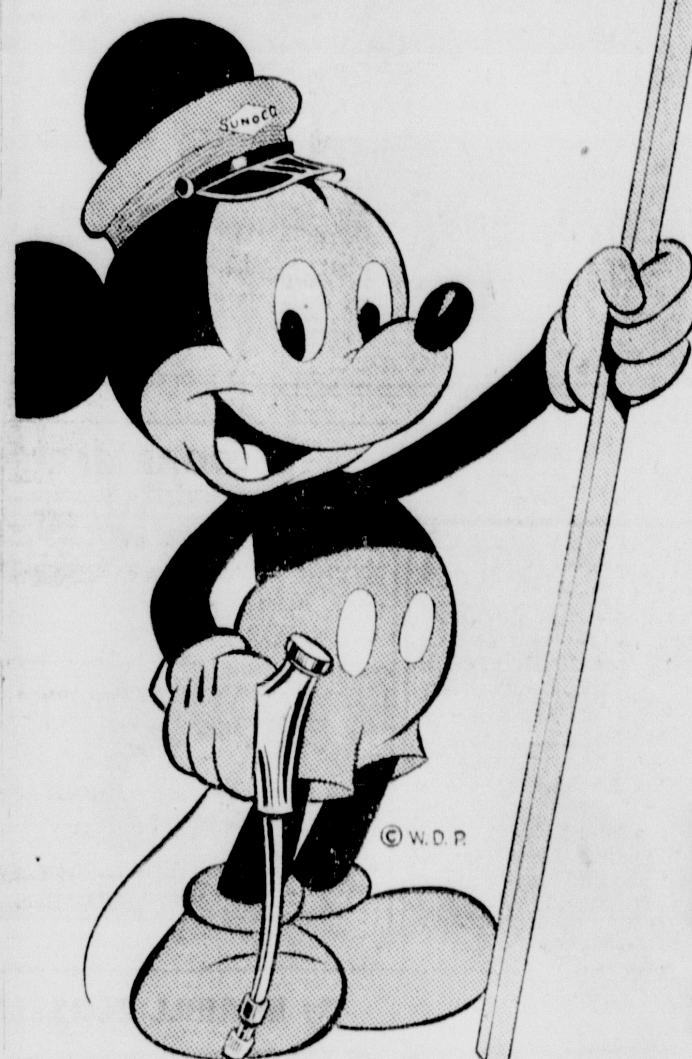

Today's other major events include the two-mile run in which Ollie Hunter of Notre Dame, Don Burnham of Dartmouth, Glen Masten of Colgate and Wilt head a strong college field, the 120-yard high hurdles with Tom Todd of Virginia, Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace and Warren Halliburton of N. Y. U.; the 400-meter hurdles, shot put and discus throw. There'll be another two-mile Saturday with Greg Rice opening his outdoor campaign against a lot of guys who can't beat him.

BOWLING'S A BOON TO HOUSEWIFE

If Eileen Quinn of Chicago hasn't got a record, no one will dispute her claims. Eileen opened the current season with a total pin fall of 14 in her first game. Three weeks later she turned in a 176 score with five straight strikes.

Look! Listen! Live!

Whoever said, "What you don't know won't hurt you," was wrong—and the grade crossing accident illustrated here proves it.

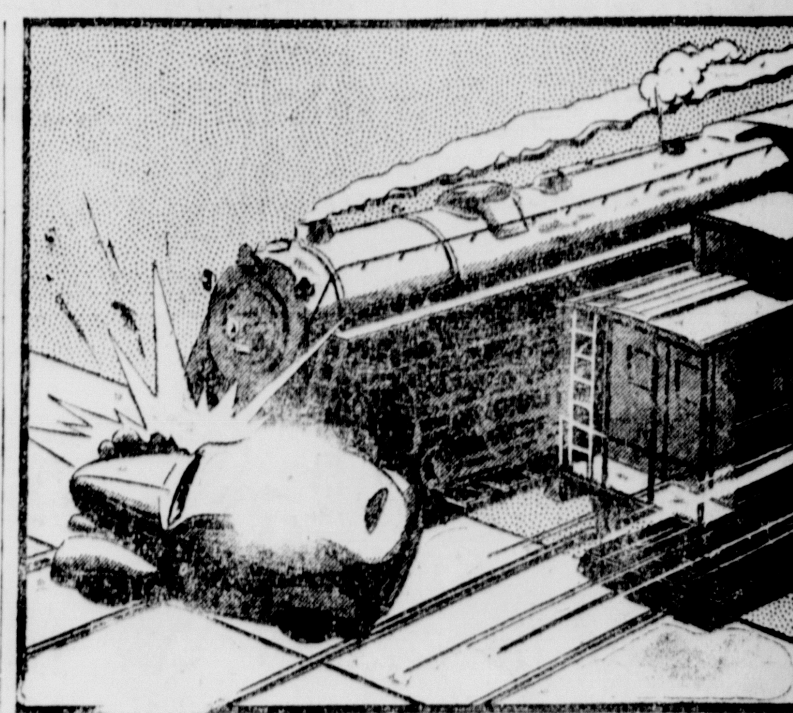

The driver of a shiny car stopped safely at a railroad crossing to let a freight train pass. The train passed, and the driver put his car in gear and started across immediately after the caboose had cleared the crossing. But it was a double track crossing and another fast freight from the opposite direction roared toward the crossing, obscured from view by the train that had just passed.

The driver didn't know the second train was coming.

And what he didn't know not only hurt him—but killed him, smashed the car into junk and delayed the train nearly a half hour.

The National Safety Council is conducting a special campaign to stop these grade crossing accidents, which every day delays an average of 38 trains a total of 22 hours—a heavy drain on the nation's wartime transportation facilities.

Driver carelessness is the cause of almost all grade crossing accidents.

To help win the war, to save yourself and others needless suffering, the Council asks you to be sure the track is clear before you start across.

Adjournment of Assembly May Be Delayed for Week

next two years received senate approval this week, but action on others was deferred. Ruth obtained a delay in a vote on re-enactment of the cigarette levy in the hope of tagging it for financing of teacher salary increases so as to prevent a reduction.

The upper chamber approved and sent to the governor a measure continuing a 10 per cent liquor tax. Also passed was the four per cent levy on corporate net income, but the bill went back to the house for concurrence in minor amendments.

The house moved up for a vote a bill by Rep. John E. Van Alsbury (R-Erie) to revamp the Pennsylvania relief law.

Democrats, winding up the second week of their filibuster, charged majority leaders repeatedly had put off a proposed "peace conference" and set Monday as the deadline for such a meeting.

Denying any refusal to confer GOP House Chief Clerk Franklin H. Lichtenwalter asserted, "It has been very difficult to arrange a meeting due to the hours we have had to keep because of filibuster tactics used by the Democrats."

has recessed, its committees have their work cut out for them. The tax-framing ways and mean group set a meeting today to report out a Democratic-sponsored pay-as-you-go bill which is expected to set off a new floor fight.

Republicans are prepared to offer their modified Kumal plan measure as a substitute when the bill hits the floor May 3—and the forays will go on from there.

Six-Year-Old Child Loses Life In River

drowning occurred had been dragged. Charles Kline, father of the boy is a salesman for the R. W. Norris Co., Inc., and was in Coudersport at the time of the accident. Every effort was made to locate him but it was not until 9 o'clock last evening that he was notified of the accident. He at once returned home.

The lad was one of five children in the family and was a well liked and bright little fellow. His untimely death has caused much sorrow in the hearts of those who knew and loved him.

Peter Massa, who has a garden on the river flats near the crossing over the Pennsylvania railroad at the foot of Elm street was at work when he noted the child. Mr. Massa feels there were more children than two in the group but is not sure. He warned the children to get off the railroad tracks as a train might come. They disappeared and he did not again note them until some time later when a child told him that "there is a little boy in the river". He then went to the river and endeavored to lend all possible aid.

The firemen were able with the emergency truck to take their boat to the waters edge at the spot where the lad slipped into the river. Here it was lowered into the stream. Life preservers for the workers in the boat out on the muddy, swirling waters were secured from the state hospital and several boats were also secured from the same source. Some boats were equipped with outboard motors and conducted a search down stream from the scene of the accident so that if the body should have lodged on an obstruction of some kind it might be found.

Death Calls Prominent Churchman

an elder, in which capacity he served with untiring devotion for more than 45 years. He had been a life member of the church session, even though the system of rotary eldership had been adopted, evidence of the high esteem in which he was held by the members of his church and fellow members of the official board. For over 25 years he rendered loyal service as a teacher in the Sunday school and as benevolent treasurer of the church over a long period his work had been invaluable. In his private life he was a most generous giver to every worthy cause.

Besides his wife, he leaves a son, Alfred P. Kitchen, of Philadelphia; also two grandsons, Ensign James William Kitchen, now stationed in the South Pacific, and Alfred Paul Kitchen, who is with the Army Air Corps at Austin, Texas; and a brother, John F. Kitchen, of Erie, and three nieces.

Washington, April 23.—(P)—Fuel oil user in rationed states who need oil in their tanks to prevent "shifting" during the spring and summer were authorized today to start buying part of next season's ration.

Washington, April 23.—(P)—The Office of Price Administration advised retailers today not to stock up on higher-priced women's, girls' and children's outer wear for the fall and winter season that they customarily carry.

New York, April 23.—(P)—The joint wage negotiating conference of the anthracite industry went into a new phase today as a five-man sub-committee began discussing terms and conditions of a new contract.

Washington, April 23.—(P)—Occupation of islands in the Ellice group in the south Pacific by United States forces was disclosed by the navy today in a communique telling of an enemy bombing raid on American installations there.

Tokyo Radio Replies To U. S. Protest

Hori, spokesman of the cabinet board of information, denied today that American fliers captured after last year's Japan raid had been mistreated.

He accused American authorities with resorting "to cheap name-calling to whip up waning morale of the people by fanning hatred toward Japan" by releasing the text of an American protest "against alleged mistreatment of American airmen who were captured."

This communication, he alleged, was received only today by the Japanese government.

"Our attitude on this question already had been made clear beyond any argument by the following official statements," Hori was quoted as saying.

"Firstly, on Oct. 19, 1942, the director of the army press section of imperial headquarters issued a statement which said: 'As a result of investigation of captured members of crews of American airplanes who raided the mainland on April 18 this year, those who ignored the principles of humanity have been severely punished in accordance with military law.'"

"Secondly, on the same day the commander of general headquarters for home defense issued the following proclamation: 'If members of the crew of enemy aircraft who raid the territory of Japan and come within the reaches of our authority are found to have committed a cruel and inhuman act, the same shall be tried before military court and punished with death or severe penalty.'"

Hori said the Japanese government notified the United States, through a protecting power, last February that "capital punishment was meted out to part" of the American airmen captured after last year's raid.

Disclosure of Japan's execution of some of the eight American fliers taken prisoner after the 1942 attack on Tokyo was followed today by news of widespread aerial blows against enemy forces in the southwest Pacific and in Burma.

PITTSBURGH ADOPTS CURFEW REGULATIONS

Pittsburgh, April 23.—(P)—Unescorted "teen-age" girls will be prohibited from traveling in downtown streets after 11 p. m., under a curfew order invoked by Safety Director George E. A. Fairley.

The director appointed a roving police squad to enforce the regulation. The squad also will be authorized to pick up and question girls appearing in company of service men under "suspicious circumstances."

The curfew is modeled after one already being tried in Philadelphia in a drive against vice.

RECIPROCAL DRIVING

Harrisburg, April 23.—(P)—Motor vehicles in war work need not have Pennsylvania licenses in order to operate in this state, provided the state in which they are licensed extends the same privilege to Pennsylvania vehicles, Governor Martin informed law enforcement officers in a proclamation yesterday.
